

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

A successful democracy depends upon an informed citizenry. If our media is turned over to the hands of a few corporations, the information accessible to the public will be extremely biased, therefore seriously limiting the people's ability to know. The deregulation of the FCC will be an injustice to the American people and a serious blow to democracy.